

Events with Food

The University must follow extensive food handling/serving health guidelines. Events hosted by student groups where food is served must follow safe food handling/serving procedures. Organizers of events where food will not be prepared by the university food services must meet with student affairs to assure compliance with safe preparation and service of food items.